

Haliç University has been continuing its education and research mission since 1998 and it is one of Turkey's leading private universities. 10,800 students study at Haliç University and the university has 7 faculties, 2 colleges, 1 vocational school, a conservatory, and a graduate institute. Therefore, it continues in a wide range of education, health, engineering, architecture, sports, and arts. There are 380 academicians and 65 laboratories at the university.

The values of Haliç University are reliability, transparency, sustainability, continuous improvement, universality, being a questioner, being a sharer, and being a libertarian.

The university puts design and creativity at the center and prioritizes raising individuals who can produce solutions by looking at problems from different angles. 18,000 graduates so far are moving in line with this approach with their impact and success. The university attaches importance to its students not only to receive theoretical education but also to discover their talents and creativity and to graduate as young people suitable for global competition.

Haliç University has 4 campuses, all of which are in the center of Istanbul. There are 60 departments in total at the university. Haliç University offers 29 master's and 6 PhD programmes. Infirmary service is provided at the university. There are 1 doctor and 2 nurses in the infirmary. Also, there is a Psychological Counselling Unit at the university that students and employees can apply whenever they need it.

On the campus on the coast of Istanbul Golden Horn, activities are held outdoors in summer and the cinema hall in winter. The university has a dining hall with a seating capacity of 420 people.

Haliç University library is open 24/7. In the library, there are night reading halls, study rooms, the opportunity to reach many resources quickly and to access online databases with the cooperation between libraries.

The modern vision of Haliç University is in harmony with the globalizing world. It makes use of the "Contemporary Quality Principle in Education" to train university students as experts who know, use, and produce science and technology. You can examine the programs included in the "Top 400+ Impact Rankings" of Haliç University. With the VR applied Haliç-X Online education system, you will experience both face-to-face and online education.
